

creative chaos

making as a disruptive presence

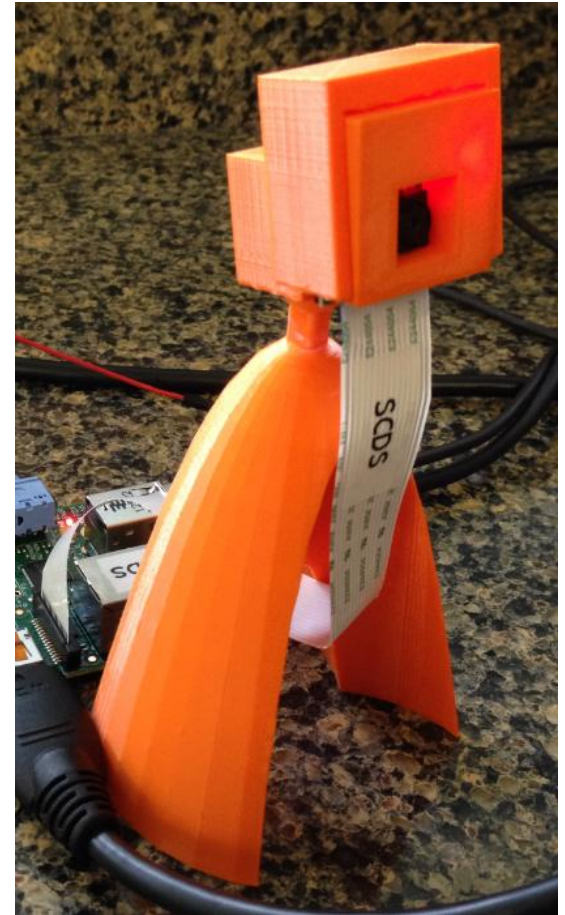

Failure

We all agree it's OK,
but need to create
space where it can happen

Investment

Not a major
capital, space,
nor time
commitment

Beg forgiveness

... if something goes
wrong.
It usually won't.

Moths to candles

Undergraduates crave these opportunities.

21st cent. literacy

“The language of the 21st century is data: statistics, coding, and modeling are the digital equivalent of nouns, verbs, and adjectives.” ... For new graduates, “the ability to produce relevant 21st century content is often the difference in getting that first break.”
